Academic Progression and Student Support Guide

Academic Year: 2026–2027

1. Academic Progression

Students must complete the required modules for their program and satisfy any prerequisites before progressing to the next stage of study.

Program-specific progression requirements are published in the relevant course handbook.

2. Academic Advising

Students who are uncertain about their academic progression should arrange an appointment with their assigned academic advisor. Advisors can explain program requirements and identify available support resources.

3. Academic Difficulty

Students experiencing academic difficulties should contact the Student Support Office. Available support may include academic advising, study planning, and referrals to tutoring resources.

4. Module Registration

Students must register for modules through the Student Portal during the published registration period. Some modules require successful completion of prerequisite modules.

5. Changes to Study Plans

Students seeking to change their program or study plan must contact their academic advisor and obtain the required approval before assuming the change has been accepted.

6. Contact

Questions about module registration and academic progression should be directed to the academic advisor or Registrar's Office.

This guide does not define scholarship eligibility requirements at Northridge University.
